About Us.

Introduction

Emporeko Global is a dynamic and diversified export house, committed to delivering India's finest products to the world with integrity, innovation, and excellence. With a strong foundation in ethical sourcing, global logistics, and quality control, we cater to a wide range of industries including agriculture, FMCG, textiles, wellness, eco-friendly packaging, and precious stones.

At Emporeko Global, we don't just export goods — we export stories of trust, purity, and partnership. From customized packaging to private-label solutions, we empower global businesses to source with confidence and grow with purpose.

Story & History

Emporeko Global was founded with a singular belief — that India’s rich diversity of natural resources, craftsmanship, and heritage deserves a global stage. What began as a vision to bridge the gap between local producers and international markets has now evolved into a trusted export house, delivering quality, sustainability, and innovation across continents.

This is more than business.
This is Emporeko — where quality meets conscience.

— ROHIT JAIN, FOUNDER

The roots of Emporeko Global trace back to a simple yet powerful vision — to connect India’s finest natural, agricultural, and artisanal products with the world. What began as a focused export initiative has grown into a globally trusted export house, known for its commitment to quality, sustainability, and ethical sourcing. Over time, Emporeko expanded its reach and diversified its portfolio — launching dedicated brands like Tāmrika, offering organic food and wellness products, and El D’ora, bringing ethically crafted lab-grown diamonds and gemstones to the global luxury market.

Mission & Vision.

MISSION

- To deliver ethically sourced, high-quality products across diverse sectors — from agriculture and wellness to textiles and luxury — with reliability and global standards.
- To empower brands and partners worldwide through sustainable practices, customized export solutions, and a commitment to trust, transparency, and long-term growth.

VISION

To redefine global sourcing by becoming a trusted symbol of ethical trade, sustainable growth, and exceptional quality — seamlessly connecting India's rich legacy of craftsmanship and agriculture with the evolving needs of the modern world. Through our brands Tāmrika and El D'ora, we envision building a future where purity, purpose, and progress move together across borders.
